

Using Mathematica to create interactive physics apps

by Tatsu Takeuchi, Virginia Tech

A bead sliding on a rotating rod with elastic and frictional forces Video

by Carl E. Mungan, United States Naval Academy

Investigating research themes and funding for the Physics Education Research community

by Rebecca Rosenblatt, AAAS/NSF

Virtual labs as an opportunity to introduce students to programming

by David Morgan, Richard Bland, College of William and Mary

Dynamics of digits: Calculating Pi with Galperin billiards

by Nate Harshman, American University

Everyone Makes Errors: A 19th-Century Mathematical Attempt to Prove the Existence of God

by Adrian Rice, Randolph-Macon College

The Brehme Angle and the velocity triangle Video

by Lewis McIntyre

Remote instruction Video

by David Wright, Tidewater Community College

RPG physics games in the classroom during COVID

by Eric Bubar, Marymount University

Examples of project-based learning in physics Video

by Rhett Herman, Radford University

Getting Started with JupyterLab

by Rachele Dominguez, Randolph-Macon College